SPOTLIGHT

All Aspiring Cooks on Deck

Every year, Goodwill Great Lakes holds the Commander Navy Installations Command (CNIC) culinary arts competition. This past year, 2022, was the eleventh year of the CNIC competition and the seventh year that Naval Station Great Lakes hosted the event. Seven teams consisting of three members from Navy Galleys across the U.S. and overseas participated. The Goodwill Great Lakes team is the only civilian team that competed. Before the competition, all teams participated in a three-day workshop that included team-building exercises, mock competitions and a variety of demos on topics like basic knife cuts, plate presentations, nutrition lectures and more. Goodwill Great Lakes competitor Cynthia noted, “I learned a lot of skills I can take with me into the future. This is a great experience for anyone passionate about becoming a chef.”
